

Did you know?

The Agenda
offices will be closed from 23rd
December until 3rd January

The Agency Workers' Rights so far...

On the 1st October 2011, the AWR was brought into place with the intention of benefiting both the economy and long-term agency workers. Having been in place for only 8 weeks, people are already questioning its effectiveness.... Read More

Britain's 1.5 million contract staff "misunderstood" by bosses

New research, involving UK bosses, contractors and permanent employees, has challenged the myth that permanent workers are more loyal. According to the report- compiled by Hudson Recruitment- it shows that employers question the loyalty of contract staff despite the fact they are often believed to be more productive and engaged in their work than their permanent peers... Read More

Festive absence

With the festive season now upon us, most employees will have a busier social calendar than normal, with lots of nights out (and dare we say it... the office Christmas party to attend!). 4 out of 10 respondents in a recent survey of HR professionals believe 'overindulgence' over the Christmas period is a major factor in rising absence rates in December rather than genuine illness (ref: BUPA)... Read More

Also...

- 10 interview questions to watch out for in an interview
- Clegg: £1bn scheme will 'provide hope' to young jobless
- Why our European counterparts are stiff competition
- The truth behind the new jobless generation
- The Bribery Act – Agenda's commitment

Grappling with a recruitment problem?

T: 08456 445545
www.agenda-rm.co.uk

